Parker, Bridget & Co.

Now for the Clearance Of the Women's Summer Suits and Dresses.

A stock of vast proportions and unique merit that must be brought down to the very lowest point now and will be brought down through reductions that we can well claim to be of a sensational sort.

Only one suit of a kind in every instance—made of thoroughly well shrunk materials—some borrowing beauty from simplicity and grace of line—others elaborate in light becoming trimmings. Styles are, of course, well in advance of what's to be seen yet—and that's an additional recommendation. We can't speak too forcibly of the lowness of price. We haven't wanted to make the reductions deep.

PARKER, BRIDGET & CO., HEAD-TO-FOOT OUTFITTERS, 9th and Pa. Ave.

MUSIC BOXES.

We do not wish to carry them through the summer and will dispose of them at less than cost. Values from $10 to $125.

MR. PAYNE'S PROTEST

OBJECTS TO TRACKS FOR ELECTRIC RAILWAY.

Postmaster General Writes District Commissioners Setting Forth His Views on the Subject.

Postmaster General Payne's anticipated protest against the laying of tracks and the operation of electric cars along 12th street northwest just west of the Post Office Department building reached the District Commissioners today. The Post Office Department officials contend the operation of the cars of the Washington, Alexandria and Mt. Vernon Railway Company along 12th street will interfere with the mail business of the city of Washington.

The Commissioners have decided to grant the department officials a hearing on the subject, and if the arguments presented by the post office authorities seem of sufficient weight it is probable the District Commissioners may deem it advisable to reverse their former decision, which was to locate the passenger station of the railroad company on D street near 12th, and to permit the company to operate cars along 12th street.

In the event the Commissioners deem it advisable to revoke their former decision as to the location of the station, they will be obliged to again take up the difficult question of selecting another location for the station and tracks. On account of the many considerations and interests involved in this question it has not been one easy of settlement, and from present indications the Commissioners are not yet through with the problem.

The Postmaster General's Letter.

Postmaster General Payne's letter to the Commissioners is as follows: "Under date of July 2, General John A. Merritt, postmaster at Washington, D. C., called my attention to the fact that it is proposed to change the route of the Washington, Alexandria and Mt. Vernon railway so that its terminal would be approximately at the northern corner of the Post Office Department building, and its track would run the entire length of the west side of the department building on 12th street."

"Twelfth street, I am advised, is only forty feet in width. It is constantly used for the receipt and dispatch of mails and supplies for the department. It is not room enough on the street for both the street railway business and the postal business. Therefore, I must enter my protest against the proposed location and that your board give the department an opportunity to be heard against it. I have requested General Merritt to represent the department in the matter."

"I am sure you will agree with me that anything that will interfere with the postal business of a city like Washington is of serious consequence. It has been suggested that an easy solution of the matter would be to locate the passenger station of the company on 15th street. The route proposed under this suggestion would be for the cars to run north on 14th street to E and then west on E street to the station. On the return trip by means of a 'Y' arrangement. It is understood that the railroad company objects to this plan because of the inconvenience in handling trailers on the switches."

GEN. WHEELER'S SUIT.

Proceedings Instituted at Memphis, Tenn., to Recover Judgment.

Gen. Joseph Wheeler, United States army, retired, instituted proceedings in the chancery court at Memphis, Tenn., yesterday to recover on a judgment rendered April 19 last by the District Supreme Court in connection with the suit of S. J. Shepherd, trustee; Joseph Wheeler, Danella Wheeler and H. J. Jones, deceased, against Patrick G. Meath, to recover $5,000 on a bond. Judgment was rendered here for the sum mentioned in favor of the plaintiffs.

The bond in question was an injunction undertaking, and the plaintiffs claimed that by reason of the wrongful suing out of an injunction against them in the chancery court of Shelby county, Tenn., and the resulting delay in selling certain property they sustained damage in the sum mentioned.

In the bill filed at Memphis yesterday it is asserted that the amount claimed is due on the judgment rendered in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, which is alleged to have been obtained by the officer to whom it was forwarded for execution. It is set forth that Meath has recently received judgment against the Union Railway Company for $2,781.56 in the circuit court at Memphis.

The bill further asserts that Meath is owner of a one-half interest in seven lots in Memphis, known as the eight lots, and that the Union railway runs, and that it is for the use of this ground that the circuit court judgment was given. It is charged that Meath, in addition to the judgment held by the complainant, $10,000 to the Security Bank, which is covered by a deed of trust.

In the prayer it is alleged that attachment be executed against all rights of Meath and that the remaining interests of Meath in the land be sold to satisfy the debts mentioned.

LAST TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

Remains of Deputy Warden Russ Interred in Congressional Cemetery.

Warden Harris and the guards at the District Jail paid a last tribute to the late Deputy Warden Benton Russ yesterday afternoon, when funeral services were held at the family home, 9 1/2 street southeast.

A handsome floral remembrance was held at the family home, 9 1/2 street southeast.

"Forty years' faithful service" as the inscription was sent by the jail officials, and eight employees of the prison acted as pallbearers. They were Capt. E. S. Randall, J. W. Walters, George P. Dunn, Mat Flannigan, Emanuel Beam, Wilber P. Perry, J. Langbehn and John A. Ward.

The interment was in Congressional cemetery.

EVA DE VEAL CASE.

Motion for New Trial Overruled by Justice Gould.

After arguments today by Attorneys T. J. Jones and L. M. King, for the defendant, and Assistant United States Attorney Peyton Gordon, for the government, Justice Gould, in Criminal Court No. 2, overruled the motion for a new trial in the case of Eva De Veal, colored. The latter was indicted for the murder last fall of her newborn infant, but the jury rendered a verdict of guilty of manslaughter.

After overruling the motion Justice Gould sentenced the defendant to penitentiary imprisonment for two years.

The defense noted an appeal to the Court of Appeals. Pending the determination of the appeal Justice Gould fixed bail for the woman at $3,000.

A New Serial.

Beginning next Saturday The Star will publish daily installments of Miriam Michelson's very successful story "In the Bishop's Carriage." It is full of surprises and strong situations, and is intensely interesting.

Mail Carriers Organize.

The rural free delivery carriers of the United States mails in Virginia have formed a mutual protection organization under the name of the Rural Letter Carriers' Association. The objects of the association, like those of the letter carriers' organizations in the cities, are for the advancement of the interests of the members and for mutual benefit. The first meeting of the new association was held at Lynchburg last week with 130 delegates, representing all sections of Virginia, present.

The following were chosen as follows: J. E. Coleman, West Appomattox, president; W. A. Lettwith, Lynchburg, vice president; J. M. Brown, Lexington, secretary; E. C. Shumak, Mount Sidney, treasurer.

THE WORLD OF SOCIETY

THE WALSHES ENJOYING HOSPITALITY OF OLD HOME.

A Young and Titled Englishman Has Arrived—Summer Plans—Personals.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Walsh, with their son and daughter and Miss Flora Wilson, their guest, have been magnificently entertained during their first week's stay in Denver. A dinner dance was given by former Gov. and Mrs. Thomas at the Country Club in honor of the party. The guests numbered sixty, and went to and from the club in coaches. A storm temporarily postponed a lawn party, also devised by the same host for the Washington party.

The Italian ambassador, who returned from a long absence abroad yesterday, has been ennobled by his king, and is now Baron Mayor. Count di Celere, who has been charge d'affaires during his chief's absence, was in New York to welcome him back. The count will now proceed to St. Petersburg, where he has been made first secretary of embassy.

Mrs. Payne, wife of the Postmaster General, will start north in a week or so, to remain away the rest of the summer.

Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock left yesterday, accompanied by Mrs. Hitchcock and their younger daughter, for his summer home, in Dublin, N. H.

The arrival of a day or two ago of Lord Suffolk of England ought to cause a thrill of excitement among the fashionable summer cities. He is unmarried, has all the social graces and is an amateur actor of reputation. He is the nineteenth Earl of Suffolk and twelfth Earl of Berkshire. For several years he was an A. D. C. on the staff of Lord Curzon, in India. His ancestral home is Charlton Park, in Wiltshire, a stately Jacobean mansion, the oldest part of which was built in the reign of King James I, while the more modern portion was added in 1773 by the Lord Suffolk who was secretary of state during the American war of independence.

Count and Countess Adelbert de Chambrun, Prince de Bearn and Representative Longworth are now with the mother of the latter at her place at Manchester-by-the-Sea, Mass. The count and countess will be present at a dinner to be given by this hostess this week.

Miss Frances Fitzgerald Pryor and Mr. William Webb Fickling will be married at 8:30 o'clock this evening at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell Pryor, at 1730 F street northwest. The officiating minister will be the Rev. C. Ernest Smith, pastor of St. Thomas'. Only a few families of the bride and groom will be present at the ceremony. Immediately following the wedding the couple will take a trip to New York, where they will be the guests of the groom's brother, Irving Fickling.

Miss Pryor is a niece of Judge Roger A. Pryor of New York, who was for two terms secretary of the United States circuit court in New York. He will also be remembered by old Washingtonians as having been for some years co-editor of the Washington Chronicle and as the author of the paper. In 1856 Judge Pryor severed his connection with the paper to undertake a special mission for the government to Greece.

The father of the groom, the late Charles Fickling, was a well-known real estate man of this city. The groom and his family are natives of the District, while the bride's parents came here from Petersburg, Va. Irving Fickling will be best man, and Mrs. Gibbs Baker, sister of the bride, will be matron of honor. Upon their return to this city Mr. and Mrs. Fickling will reside at the home of the bride's parents.

Misses Lillian and Reta Scates of Brooklyn, N. Y., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Galbreath, 1427 North Capitol street.

Mrs. John J. King, Miss Wanda B. King and James Randolph King have gone for a month's sojourn in the mountains of Virginia.

Miss Mary J. Kober of Denver, Col., is visiting her father, Charles Kober, and has been visited by numerous friends during the past week.

Mr. Walter D. Stephenson of Philadelphia, Pa., formerly of this city, and Miss Mamie E. McClure of Philadelphia, Pa., were married Wednesday, June 15, 1904, at Wilmington, Del.

Mrs. E. A. Nelson, Jr., of 1323 F street northeast left last Friday morning for a two weeks' visit with her sister, Mrs. L. H. Phelps, at her beautiful home on Columbia Heights, overlooking New York harbor, Brooklyn, N. Y., at the end of which time she will be joined by her husband, and to be followed by her sister, Mrs. Phelps, who has an extended trip through the east and north, including Boston, Thousand Islands, the great lakes and Niagara Falls.

Mrs. Mamie Morrice Burdette, who has been very ill the past fortnight, is said to be improving.

Mrs. Sol Berliner and son of Teniferre, Ontario Islands, and her sister, Miss Bertha Ottensberg, have left for New York, where they will remain for several weeks.

Mrs. H. L. McGowan has gone south for a short time to friends in Georgia and South Carolina, after which she will go to Cape Springs for the summer.
